Of this fum of 316,970 dollars 70 cente, 51,839 dolls. 62 cts. out previously to the charge of warrante against the treasury, drawn also prior to that period; and as the fum of $1,839 dollars 62 cents were expended before the year Hor which we have prepared ellimates) commenced, it cannot be calculated in the revenue of the year. Deduct therefore this fum

The committee have not estimated the arrearages of the races in 1854, catculating on an equal definency in 1805; and lupp that the arreariges at 1804 coming in 1805, w uldimeet the deficiency in the population account of the taxes of the letter years. The committee have not taken a seperate view of the money on hand the first of O tuber, 1805, that money being only fuch portion of the 316 970 dols. 70 cents, as was in the treatury on the 1st of October, 180; and therefore in this fum of 316,970 dois. 70 cents, it is calculated.

The committees, agreeably to thele oftimates, which they believe to be correct, make the expenditures of the government greater than the refources, by the fum of 41,584 dollars 92

To obviate in some degree the inconvenience which refults from the want of money in the treasury during the summer months, your committee beg leave to recommend to the hoofe to make the taxes on lots, coaches, flages, chairs and merchants in the towns of Richmond, Petersburg, Norfolk, Fredericksburg, Lyachburg, Winchefter, Domtries, Fincaft o Wittiamsburg. Portfmouth, Falmouth, Suffik, Smithfield, Staunton, Manchester, and the common law procefs, hereafter payable into the treafury on the fielt day of June in every year. The greater part of these raxes is collected in May, and serve until October, only as funds for speculation in the hands of the officers of the state who hold them. The committee further recommend to the house to take off the additional two and a half per cent. allowed the riffs for collecting tax's on lots in the towns mentioned above. They also re. commend, that the law for collecting taxes thould be fo framed as to compel ferfeants of corporations to give fecurity for the collection and payment of luch taxes, as they are authorised to collect, and that they and their securities, in case of the luce, be liable to the fame process with therites

The committee cannot, confifently with their duty, conclude this report without luggesting to the house the necessity of pre, aring some refources to meet the exceft of expenditure. Whether the Legistature will increase the taxes generally with. in this commonwealth, or fearth new objects of raxation, furli as toll bridges, mills, wharves and race fie.ds, the committee are unable to de, cide; one of the other of those measures they however beg leave to recommend.

On motion, Ordered, That the said report be referred to a committee of the whole house on the flate of the commonwealth; and that 250 copies be printed for the use of the members of the Go. neral Affembly.

NEUTRAL RIGHTS. Extract of a litter from an American gentleman in London to his correspondent

"This country is depredating upon our commerce to an unexampled length, and to suppose that any man will find favor in the courts of vice admiraly or with the gree. dy phinierers of our commerce, is abourd. To destroy our commerce with a view to give opening for the employment of their own vessels at the close of the war, is one commerce, It arose out of the unjust object; and another is, to give encouragemen to the navy, particularly to the higher officers of it, whose small pay without booty will not afford them an adequate sup. port, there having been no alteration in it for apwards of an hundred years. These to you a new case which has occured, and considerations have a great influence in inducing the conduct, which is pursued to- ing. It shows to what length this govern wards our vessels; especially as the com- ment means to carry its restrictions upon merce of France, Spain and Holland af. our commerce, whilst it equally points out fords no booty, and except that carried on the necessity for decisive measures from by neutrals, is in a manner destroyed. It our government. The case to which I al is a curious fact, which ought to be known lude, refers to an American vessel bound in the United States, that sir Wm. Scott, from China to Amsterdam, which was conwho is the judge of vise-admiralty, and demned a few days since by Sir William member of the privy council, and in Neprone, S 80, taken and afterwards time to time receives directions from the ought to be fixed and settled upon just Fragita Cornelie, F 40, at anchor in principles is perpetually varying, and is wavering and unsettled; and it is also to Esquadra de Observacion, 1st Division. be observed, that the decisions of the judge produce all the effect of new order agents giving notice of every new principal ple or change adopted by the judge. It new orders have been issued. Nohin Achillies, F 74, blown up in the ac- can exceed the art and management will which this government proceeds toward

It is high time we had a national change Argonaute, F 74, at anchor in Cadia ter, and that we felt for the national later. est, that when either were attacked, to should be ready to avenge the injury, in it come from what quarter it might. With rity of our commerce, or the adoption of proper measures for that purpose:

Mr. Menioe has presented a long net to lord Mulgrave, upon the subject of the late captures. It is well written, arga

The principle of free ships making he goods, is considered here to be abandund caped; sixty English on board 3 masts but that our concession of it to this to vernment; produced as important info ence in inducing the modification or rather abandonment of the principle by Rusia and the other northern powers in line 1801. In the October following her months after the treaty between Russia and Great Britain had been eigned, the partie made a declaration explanatory of the cond section of the third article, by which they declare (in a case, however, in which Russia had no interest) " that the freedom of navigation and commerce, granted by the said article to the subjects of a neutral power, does not authorize them to carry, in time of war, the produce or merchadize of the colonies of the belligerent power direct to the continental possession, nor, vice verca from the mother country to the enemy's colonies; but that the said subjects are, however, to enjoy the same advantages and facilities in this commerce as are enjoyed by the most favored nation, and especially by the United States of A. merica."

It is in this way that the interests of newtral nations have been played off against each other, to the advantage of this nat tion; and the United States are now left alone to contest their own rights and interests as neutral.

In the present conjuncture of affairs, it appears to me advisable, that our merchants should meet and discuss the subject of neutral rights, and taken the Russian treaty with Great Britain for their guide, as it stood unexampled in June, 1801, when it was made, should pass resolutions consonant thereto, and enforce them with a petition to the government of the United States, to adopt the most ready means to carry into execution such measures as it might deem necessary to give the most effectual protection to our navigation and commerce. A measure of this kind, I have no doubt, would be attended with the happiest effects. It would shew that the merchants were united among themselves, and were disposed to place their neutral rights upon an equitable ground, whilst their claims would be moderate, and grounded upon the old law of nations, as laid down by the best writers No party views or dissentions ought to enter into this measure; all should join and make a common cause in it; and in this rase, such weight would be given to the representations of our Ministers in Europe, that I have no doubt, that our neutral rights would be respected by this and the other belligerent nations. I have had no motive in suggesting the foregoing advice, but for the better protection of our navigation and condemnation of Mr. S's. property, connected with such facts, and the best view of things, which my present situation has

Nelson, said, that he had been told by the Judges of the District Court of Columbia, that owing to certain difficulties they labor under, they cannot go through the business of the District. He should therefore move the following resolution. Resolved, That a committee be appointed to enquire whether, any, and what alterations are necessary to be made in the criminal, or equitable jurisdiction of the cir. cuit court of Columbia.

Referred to a committee of five.

Mr. Gregg made a report upon the petition of the inhabitants of the counties of Randolph and St. Clair, in the territory of Indiana, stating that when they first settled there, they were offered flattering terms, which they contemptuously reject, and called for, formed a settlement of their own as citizens of the United States.

The report for sufficient reasons therein expressed, was that the prayer of the petition should not be granted.

Mr. Broom presented the petition of the habitants of Sussex, for a post office at a wel sown in Delaware.

Referred to the committee of Claims. Petition of Esra Weston, presented last session, was moved to be called from the file of the clerk's office, and was referred to the committee of Commerce and Manu. factures.

Mr. Early said, that he had to offer a resolution, for the purpose of calling upon the Secretaries of the Treasury, State, Army and Navy, to render an account to this house at the commencement of every session of Congress, a detailed statement of the disbursements of the contingent fund. He said, that he was not actuated by any idea of misapplication of any part of the public money, but he wished to know how it was applied, for he observed that one fourth, was for contingent expences. Resolution moved to this effect.

Resolved, That the committee of ways and means be instructed to inquire into the expediency of making provision by law for requiring the searctary of states the setretary of the treasury, the secretary of war, and the secretary of the navy, to lay before congress annually, a detailed account of the expenditures of the fund appointed for contingent expences in their several different departments respectively. UNIVERSITY OF VIRGINIA.

On Tuesday Mr. Semple, asked for leave to bring in a bill, to establish the "University of Virginia." Much he observed had been already done to improve the face of our country; and multiply the productions of the earth. Surely it was time to do something for us people. something that might conduce to the improvement of man, and multiply that most valuable of all productions, an enlightened understanding

The advantages of education were not to be denied, if it was considered to regard to the morals of a nation. Ignorance was the parent of vice, and it would be idle to expect men to do what was right, until they snew what was really so. Considered in regard to a republican government, the wisdom of the people must be considered as its fimest support. Thelvery existence of that form of government depended up. on the people having information enough to penetrate into the designs of the rich and the powerful. It is wisdom alone that constitutes the check upon all those active powers, which are striving to overthrow the liberties of the people.

It would be impracticable perhaps to introduce at once into the commonwealth a general system of education. Difficulties might at present exist, which would require the hand of time to remove. But was this any reason, why the legislature should sink into complete listlessness? It was time to set about the work : other legislatures taking it up, where they left it, might contribute to enlarge the system.

Mr. Semple explained the details of his project; it was desirable (he thought) that the university should be established in some county, that was below the South. West mountain, in a central situation, recommended by the salubrity of the climate and the cheapness of the provisions. It should be far removed, from every scene of bustle dissipation and vice. To support the sum of 500,000 dollars. At least one fifth of this sum was to be collected by vo. luntary contributions; 30,000 dolls, every year by a lottery, and the state should pledge itself to authorise no other until this plan was accomplished; and the rest of the capital, by a tax to be laid upon such articles as are principally in the hands of the rich. Three fifths of this capital were to be employed in conducting the institu. tion; two fifths in purchasing a proper scite, and in erecting the necessary buildings. In the purchase of a scite, he conceived that the land attached to it should be in so large a body as to keep at a distance, by the jurisdiction to be given to the University, every person that might injure the morals of the pupils, at the same time to admit of a certain number of loss being leased out for the benefit of the institu-

Mr. Semple hoped that leave would be given to bring in the bill.

Leave was accordingly given, & Messrs. Semple, Tazwell, Smyth (of Wythe) Harvie, Miller (Northumberland) Jones (Nortoway) Wooding, Reeder, Moore, Minor, Garland, Harrison (Amelia) and Carter Harrison were appointed a committee to bring in a bill.

Mr. Symple then asked leave to bring in a bill "to open a subscription for the benefit of the University of Virginia." Referred to the same select committee.
